

FULBRIGHT VISITING SCHOLAR PROGRAM

Application Instructions

The Fulbright Visiting Scholar Program application process for the 2016-2017 academic year in the United States is now open. All applications must be submitted by November 30, 2015. Incomplete or applications submitted later than November 30, 2015 will not be considered. Applications must be submitted online via the Embark system. Paper applications will not be accepted.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS FOR APPLICANTS

You must possess all of the following qualifications in order to be eligible unless specific exemptions are stated by the Fulbright Office in South Africa.

Citizenship or permanent resident status qualifying you to hold a valid passport issued in the country in which the application is made. Persons selected for a Fulbright grant will be required to submit a copy of their passport data page to the Fulbright office. Persons applying for or holding permanent residence in the United States are not eligible. Persons who are citizens of both a partner country and the United States are also ineligible. Fulbright Scholars enter the United States on an Exchange Visitor (J-1) visa under a U.S. Department of State program and are subject to the two-year home-country residency requirement associated with the J-1 visa. NOTE: Scholars and their dependents who have held J visas and been physically present in the United States for six months or more are not eligible to reenter as J-1 researchers or lecturers for 12 months following their departure from the United States.

STEP 1: Create an online account

Go to: <https://apply.embark.com/student/fulbright/scholars/30/> and follow the instructions to create an account.

Record your user ID and password in a safe place.

Your email address is your user ID. When you created an account for this on-line application, you created a password. An e-mail was sent to you indicating your User ID and Password. Keep this information in a safe place. You can log in and out of the application as frequently as you like; however, you must have your user ID and password. While you cannot change your User ID, if necessary, you can change your password by clicking on "Update My Account" at the top of the Home page of this application.

STEP 2: Complete the application

You do not need to complete this application at one sitting. You can re-enter at any time and edit your application. But remember that once you submit your application, you can NO longer make changes to it. All forms in this application are to be completed in English. Items must be answered completely and carefully.

Some helpful tips:

- Avoid using all capital letters when answering items, e.g. name, address, etc. It is better to use upper and lower case, e.g. Ron Smith.
- You can copy and paste information into all text boxes.
- In the text boxes, you must limit your responses to the space provided. Information that exceeds the space provided will not display or print. If what you have typed or copied exceeds the size of the box, you must edit it. It is a good idea to ‘preview’ each page of your application to make sure that all your data displays.
- You can review each page of the application in its PDF format by clicking on the Preview button on the upper right-hand corner. Closing out of the PDF view will bring you back to your application.

Preparing the Application:

FIRST STEPS:

Planning ahead—Advance planning will give you as much time as possible to put together a thoughtful and compelling application. Applicant review and final selection are based upon the actual application and accompanying materials.

Consulting with colleagues—You are encouraged to consult with current or former Fulbright Scholars from your own country or the United States. Fulbright alumni and current participants can provide valuable guidance in formulating a competitive project statement.

GENERAL APPLICATION GUIDELINES:

At the time of application, you must submit the following: (a) application form; (b) detailed project statement; (c) detailed curriculum vitae; (d) the name of the people who will write your letters of reference (these letters will be required by November 30th, 2015 the latest) and (e) letter of invitation.

To ensure correct completion of the application, carefully read the detailed instructions provided in these guidelines.

All items must be in English.

The entire application must be typed or computer-generated. Use 10-point or larger type on all parts of the application. Handwritten applications will not be accepted.

Responses to application questions must fit on the pages on which the questions originally appear. Do not attach additional pages to answer these questions.

Do not change the format of the forms, the pagination, the fonts or the type size.

Proofread the entire application before submitting it to your local Fulbright organization. The application should be free of grammatical and spelling errors.

Treat the application as a unitary whole, with all parts reinforcing the project statement. The flow should be orderly: your capabilities should be listed in the application, further documented in the curriculum vitae and confirmed in the references. Use the project statement to make the parts interact by referring to items in the curriculum vitae or research bibliography. Without being redundant or simplistic, you should make it easier for the reviewer to find the key pieces of information you wish to convey.

If arrangements for affiliation have not been confirmed, list any preferences you have in order of priority including detailed reasons for your choice (for example, prior acquaintance or correspondence with a U.S. scholar; relevance of the U.S. scholar’s work to your own research; reputation of the academic department or research center). Your preferences will be followed, although no assurance can be given regarding placement at the institutions you suggest.

application. Dependents who are U.S. citizens will not be issued J-2 visas and must travel on their U.S. passports.

Please list all non-Fulbright funding you expect to receive during your grant (sabbatical funding or other paid leave from your university, personal savings, etc.). Please list funding amounts in U.S. dollars and include supporting documentation (contract, letter, bank statement...)

THE PROJECT STATEMENT:

The project statement is the most important component of the Fulbright application. Scholars with the most compelling, theoretically sound, well-written, feasible proposals are generally recommended for awards. Sometimes those with outstanding professional achievements assume that a brief, general project statement will be sufficient. It is not. To ensure a competitive application, your proposed project, as well as the strategy for completing it, should be thoroughly explained in three to five single-sided pages.

Submit a typed, detailed project statement of five to ten single-spaced pages on plain, white paper with each page numbered. Please keep in mind that the evaluators will have many applications to read! Illustrations should be readable when printed in black and white. In addition, attach a select bibliography of no more than three pages (2,100 words), if appropriate, to your proposed research.

Format:

Do not exceed the page limit of the proposal. Including irrelevant or extraneous material may divert attention from the project statement.

Begin the project statement with your name; country and the project title at the top of page one. At the top of each subsequent page, type your name and country.

Organize your proposal in order of the following points, which appear in bold print, and use them as headings for sections of text in your statement.

FOR A RESEARCH OR PROGRAM:

These points are an indication. You do not have to follow them in this order, but should make sure to address them.

Background: Introduce the research topic. Place the project in academic or professional context by referring to major works by others on the subject.

Objectives: Clearly define the aims of the project.

Methodology: Describe the project. Explain the approach, methods and plan you will use (for example, interviews, library or archival research, or laboratory experiments). Indicate whether the proposed research is quantitative or qualitative.

Significance: Explain the importance of the project for the field, your home country and your own professional development. Indicate what effect you expect the opportunity to have on your teaching or professional work in your home country. (For example: new approaches to curriculum planning, student advising or pedagogy; expanding knowledge in the field through collaboration with U.S. colleagues). Describe briefly the expected impact of your participation on your home institution, community or professional field.

Evaluation and Dissemination: Describe plans for assessment and distribution of research results in your home country and elsewhere.

Justification for Residence in the United States for the Proposed Project: Indicate why it is necessary for the accomplishment of the project to conduct research in the United States.

Duration: Explain how the project can be completed within the time period proposed.

Other: If applicable, indicate the quantity, format and transportation requirements for any botanical, zoological or mineral samples that you will need to bring to the United States for analysis.

THE CURRICULUM VITAE:

The curriculum vita describes academic credentials and demonstrates a record of scholarly achievements. Your C.V. should not exceed six pages in length. When composing a curriculum vitae, it is important to include:

Education (universities attended, degrees earned and dates received)

Positions held courses taught and other services provided to students and the home institution;

Publications (provide full citations and list them starting with the most recent) other professional activities, such as workshops, seminars and consultations

Membership and activities in professional associations;

Professional honors, awards and fellowships

Community service

The application asks for similar information, but provides limited space for answers. In the curriculum vitae, you should expand upon these topics to display more completely your accomplishments.

Note: Copies of diplomas, transcripts, degree certificates are NOT required.

SUPPLEMENTAL MATERIALS: Letter(s) of Invitation

Letters of invitation should be typed on institutional letterhead and signed. Invitations do not ensure selection for an award. If an invitation arrives after the application deadline, contact the Fulbright office to arrange for its late submission.

Bibliography

For research proposals, provide a list of one to three pages of references relevant to the proposed research.

REFERENCE REPORTS:

Candid, frank reference reports or letters of reference help reviewers place your research or lecturing proposal within your home institution's current conditions and plans for growth. References also provide evidence of your reputation within your discipline. The Reference Report Form in the application packet suggests qualifications that your referees should address. You must submit three references. Do not submit more than three references. A copy of the project statement should be given to each referee. References should be from people qualified to evaluate your professional work; the abilities you bring to the proposed project; your ability to adapt to another country and culture; and the merits of the project itself. References can come from your home institution, but at least one of the references should be from a colleague in your field outside your home institution. If you have recently moved to a new home institution, one of the reference letters should be from your previous institution. Choose your referees carefully and contact them early. The letters of recommendation will be needed no later than the closing date of November 30th, 2015. Do not ask someone for a letter of reference unless the person is well acquainted with your qualifications. A pro forma letter from a well-known scholar, a contact abroad or a prominent government official will carry less weight than a realistic assessment of your abilities from someone who knows you and your work well. References must be written in or translated into English. Reference letters should be attached to the Reference Report Forms provided for this purpose and should be sent by the evaluators directly to the Fulbright organization in your home country. All references must be submitted online and it is your responsibility to ensure all references are submitted by the deadline of November 30, 2015.
